Project Exhibition - 2015

Like previous year, this year also the department of CSE is organizing “Project Exhibition-2015” on 4th Nov-2015. Projects in B. Tech., play an important role in the placement as well as shaping the overall career of a students. The students apply their entire conceptual ideas for developing a practical and innovative model. The project competition gives an opportunity to the students to showcase their talent, research orientation and untapped potential. This Project Exhibition is going to provide an opportunity for the students of each year of the department.

The project could be any application project, games, desktop application, web application, mobile application etc and it could be in any language like C, C++, Java, Web Technologies, PHP, .Net, Android, etc.

It is mandatory for each student to form a group and the group need to first register in the Project Exhibition. For this the group needs to submit the summary of project and details of team members.
